STRINGING WIRES FOR POWER PLANT

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Commencing tomorrow, work is to be resumed in stringing the line of the Arizona Power company from Huron to Prescott. Mr. Masson, the chief engineer of the company, leaves today for that point to begin the work, and it is believed the power will reach this city inside of the next forty days. Poland will be reached in about two weeks, and over the hill the Mud Hole mining enterprise will be connected at about the same time. All necessary motor machinery to be used by the Poland people is en route and it will be placed in position as soon as it arrives.

Poland will be on the line to Prescott, and will receive the same current generated at this point.

During the past five days 600 horse power has been given Jerome, and continuous operation of machinery to that capacity has prevailed. There has been no interruption, whatever, and the United Verde company is said to be more than pleased with it. As soon as the additional motors are received, the maximum current contracted for, over 1,500 horse power, will be substituted for the present methods of power in use. With the United Verde and several other corporations there getting motors in place it is probable that the Copper City mining interests alone will consume over 2,500 horse power.

The Chaparral country is also figuring as a consumer, and a net work of lines will pass through that district.

The electrical machinery at the generating station on Fossil creek, is working satisfactorily, and no delay incidental to testing or remodeling is necessary. As soon as the many lines that are to be given in the field adjacent to this city are linked to it, it will be operated without any delay whatever from the generating end.

An independent telephone line is being constructed with the transmission service, and communication is given with the main works, from among the largest consumers. All that now remains to complete the system is the work of stringing the cable.

It is the purpose of the company to do this at once, and while Prescott is the next objective, the work will be prosecuted until every place is reached and the maximum power of the plant is absorbed, over 10,000 horse power.

WORK PROGRESS ON BOUSE AND SWANSEA ROAD

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Dirt is flying on the new railroad grade between Bouse and Swansea, and the intention is to complete the road bed inside of the next ninety days. In that line of building the new road, material is also arriving, a car load of steel rails being received Friday night. J. A. Trenberth has the contract on the Bouse end for a distance of twelve miles, while Mr. Toophey has the Swansea division.

These contractors are working toward each other, and 100 animals are on hand with over 100 men. Notwithstanding the intense heat incidental to that section at this time of the year, the work is being carried on from daylight to dusk without any intermission. T. J. Carrigan of the Clara Consolidated company, is personally supervising the work of grading, with headquarters at Bouse. Arrivals from there yesterday say that a string of water carriers are every where on hand, and that each man employed in the open is given water five times each hour, so intensely warm is the weather.

Production of the mines is said to be abundant, and the railroad is desired to handle the yield as well as the bringing in of the supplies. The road will be a broad gauge, and its grade will be on a light percentage, permitting of economical operation.

PULLIAM RETURNS

NEW YORK, June 26.—After a long absence Harry Pulliam will resume his duties as president of the National bank, Monday.

SINK TO RISE IS AN ATTRACTIVE PROPERTY

(From Sunday's Daily.)

Returning from an inspection of the Sink to Rise mines in the Copper Basin district, yesterday, Ed Block feels somewhat enthusiastic over the recent work given them. He believes that the property is an attractive one, and will continue development. While no extensive work has been given this group, the prospecting of the ground has been confined to the zone at all points, and it is probable that future exploitation will be centered at some designated point on the vein, after what has been proven along the entire fissure opened. From the initial work to a point about 800 feet distant, the mineral characteristics have continued unbroken, and at the late work given in a shaft 100 feet deep, a three foot vein is shown that gives good values in gold.

Interest attaches to this property from the fact that its pay streak may be termed of freaky make up, in a mineralogical sense, and it is doubtful if there is a more perplexing mining proposition in existence in this territory than what is shown there. The product is a peculiarly white ore, and assays and sample runs from it show twenty-four per cent in aluminum, and gold values ranging from $8 to $17 per ton. This character of the pay streak is three feet wide at the present depth, and its walls are altered granite and porphyry. It is a soft composition, and carries some sulphides in addition to flaky gold. The supposition of Mr. Block and others is that it is a huge chimney, and a like mineralogical make up has never before been known to exist in this section. It is a cyaniding product, and in tests recently made in Nevada the susceptibility of the ore to this method of treatment was clearly established.

By placing this ore in a basin of water it immediately is absorbed and passes into a pulp, and a knife can be run through it easily after it comes out of the ground, without any exertion. The field in which this claim lies is a copper one, and up to the present time there is no similarity whatever between it and many other mines opened up. The future working of this particular claim will be watched with keen interest from the unusual conditions prevailing on the surface and to the depth given in the character of ore bodies developed.

BIG ORE FLOAT IN ELKS' PARADE

(From Sunday's Daily.)

The committees arranging for the invasion of Los Angeles by Elks during the annual convention in July received a letter from Secretary Spices of Bisbee, stating that the total Arizona delegation in uniform would number about 300. Thus far, 272 orders for suits have been reported to the secretary, and it is believed that this will be increased to 300 before the monster delegation leaves for the coast.

This, it is believed, will be only a small percentage of the total number of Elks who will make the trip. Hundreds of Elks who will not participate in the parade will attend from Arizona.

The letter from Mr. Spiced was the first intimation of the magnitude of the army of Elks to invade the coast this year.

It is now believed that the uniformed delegation from Arizona will be second in numbers only to the California bunch.

In the aggregate $200 worth of ore will be used by the Arizona Elks in the decoration of the magnificent float behind which the territorial delegates will march in the big parade at Los Angeles during the grand lodge meeting. Bisbee will be represented from the standpoint of such ore as 450 pounds of copper which was forwarded to the metropolis of southern California last week. One large piece of native copper, weighing 300 pounds, is an exceptionally fine specimen, in addition to which 150 pounds of smaller specimens will also be sent. Specimens of gold, silver and onyx, all of a high grade territory product, will also be used in the decoration of the float.—Douglas International.

THE BIG STRIKE IS ORDERED FOR TODAY

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 26.—Three thousand men will strike tomorrow, tying up the entire traction system of this city and its suburbs. The grievances are over alleged discriminations against union men and alleged violation by the company of its agreement, signed last April.

Preparations for the relief of the 600,000 residents are under way. Steam roads are to install special train services tomorrow.

DISTRICT COURT PROCEEDINGS

(From Saturday's Daily.)

The celebrated case of L. B. Confar against the Arizona Exploration company was called in the district court yesterday morning and is now on trial. It is a suit in which the plaintiff asks for the heavy sum of $40,000 damage for alleged injuries received June 4, 1907, at Humboldt, while in the employ of that company. He was seriously injured through what he claims to be defective machinery.

The case is being bitterly fought. Messrs. Clark and Russell represent Confar and Herndon and Rods the company. The jury is composed of A. K. Monroe, James Pressley, T. C. Riff, John Whalen, Frank Burnett, E. E. Morehead, Oscar Phippney, Donald Campbell, O. B. Bozarth, R. W. Meador, James O'Leary and Ed Roberts.

The case of the territory versus Ahlers was continued for the term. Ahlers charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

The demurrer was overruled in the case of Bayless brothers versus the S. P. & P., and the same order was made in the case of Garrison versus the Big Stick Gold Mining company.

The following cases were set in the civil calendar for jury trial in the order they appear below:

Johnson versus Kelly, June 25; W. H. Otterson versus the Arizona Power company, June 29; Francisco Morales versus Selim Aekel et al, June 30; Garrison versus the Big Stick Gold Mining company, July 1; Bayless brothers versus the S. P. & P. R'y company, July 1, and Mrs. Fred Conrey versus Ed Hurley, July 9. Law points of the case to be considered at the convenience of the court and attorneys in the case before that date.

(From Sunday's Daily.)

In the district court, yesterday, the principal matter under consideration was the case of L. B. Confar against the Arizona Exploration company. In the afternoon session it was concluded. As docketed the plaintiff asked for $40,000 damages as the result of injuries sustained to his person, claiming the mechanical utilities were improperly adjusted, causing the injury.

The case was strenuously fought by opposing counsel, and a great deal of interest was centered in the outcome.

In receiving their instructions from the bench the jury were informed that the Arizona Exploration company and the Consolidated Arizona Smelting company were to be eliminated from the consideration of the case and that the Arizona Smelting company only was to be included, provided a verdict was reached in favor of the plaintiff, Confar. The jury, after deliberating over the adjustment of damages, returned a verdict of $4,000 for Confar, naming the Arizona Smelting company as the corporation as the responsible party.

Francisco Garcia, convicted of the killing of Jose Ruiz at Ash Fork, will receive his sentence for manslaughter on Monday.

In the case of Mrs. Fred Conrey against Ed Hurley, the slayer of her husband, in which she asks for $10,000 damages, an amended answer was filed by J. F. Wilson on behalf of Hurley, with a request for a continuation of the case. The court, however, desired the law points in the case, and a continuance was had until later.

In the case of George Oakman versus J. M. Sullivan, the right of a jury trial was waived, and the case will be heard by the court.

In the case of E. D. Seaton versus Dr. Woodburn and the Cumberland Gold Mining company, involving the ownership of a house on one of the company's claims, a continuance was ordered for the term.

(From Tuesday's Daily.)

But little business was transacted in the district court yesterday, the principal consideration being a general review of the calendar and the setting of cases for a future date. It is probable that court will take a recess at the end of this week, Judge Doe going to Flagstaff to hold a term, then to Kingman. On his return to Prescott, later, a short term of the United States court will be held.

Francisco Garcia, convicted of the murder of Jose Ruiz, at Ash Fork, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, the jury finding him guilty of manslaughter.

The following order for the trial of

The Great Republic Gold and Copper Mining company versus John Matton Sullivan.

BRODIE LIKELY TO RETURN TO ARIZONA

That Colonel Alex O. Brodie, former governor of Arizona, will return to the territory after he retires from the army, is the opinion of Attorney E. E. Ellinwood, who met the colonel in Chicago last week.

Colonel Brodie is now in command at Fort Snelling, Minn., near St. Paul, having returned from the Philippines about two years ago, and he will retire with the rank of brigadier general in about four years.

"Colonel Brodie asked about friends in every county in Arizona," stated Ellinwood, "and it was very easy to see that the former governor's heart is really in the territory. He is deeply interested in the welfare of Arizona, and judging from his remarks I would not be surprised to see him come back to his home in the territory after he retires from the army."

All Arizona would welcome the former governor should he return, as he was one of the most popular of all Arizona governors. He was one of the pioneers of the territory, coming here first in 1876. He is a warm personal friend of ex-President Roosevelt, having served as lieutenant colonel of Roosevelt's Rough Rider regiment during the Spanish American war.
